Introduction to Herbal Medicine and Its Resources

This course will provide a general introduction to the basic concepts of herbal medicine as practiced in the United States and Europe, including definitions, actions, and basic information on popular herbs such as St. John’s Wort and Echinacea. It includes an overview of major print resources, online databases and Internet sites. Participants will learn the names and uses of the most popular medicinal herbs; understand regulatory issues associated with the use of herbs in the U.S.; and be able to identify reliable information sources.

Instructor
David Owen, MLS, PhD
Education Coordinator, UC San Francisco Library & Center for Knowledge Management

When
Friday April 4, 2003, 9:00 a.m. – 12:00 p.m.

Where
UC San Francisco Library
Room CL222, 530 Parnassus Avenue, San Francisco

Fees
$30 – NCNMLG Members; $40 – non-members

CE Credits
3 MLA Contact Hours

More Info
Clair Kuykendall, UCSF, (415) 514-0697
Daniel Angel, Krames Health & Safety, (650) 244-4533

Deadline
Please register by Monday, March 31, 2003

---

Name:

Address:

Phone:

Fax:

E-mail:

Please make check payable to NCNMLG. Mail registration and payment to:
Clair Kuykendall
UCSF Library & Center for Knowledge Management
530 Parnassus Avenue, Box 0840
San Francisco, CA 94143